Dark Freak

Larissa Belcic
and Michelle Shofet
Dark Freak celebrates the innate vitality of all things. It is a roving, sporadically reoccurring party that opens spaces for ephemeral intertwining with the strange, often surprising, liveliness of self and other. In the party’s space of encounter, substance and creature are invited to express their personae and perform in reciprocal seductions. Drawn out by the glow of a new luminescence, massaged into visibility through entanglements with kindred others, the sensual exuberance of matter is brought to the fore. The self’s encounter with other inhabitants of this space creates moments for resonance with those different and foreign.

The moment of contact—touch, taste, gaze—becomes one of uncanny delight. Sensations slide from unease to pleasure, desire to hesitancy, as contact deepens and the essential liveliness of another is released from latency and inattention, revealed and brought to flourish.
Not Life